General Notes and Instructions

1. Assume that today's date is May 2, 2008, unless indicated otherwise.
2. You may write anywhere on the examination materials – e.g., for use as scratch paper. Only answers and material recorded in the proper places, however, will be graded.
3. Your goal is to show your mastery of the material presented in the course and your skills in analyzing legal problems. It is upon these bases that you will be graded.
4. Unless expressly stated otherwise, assume that the facts recited herein occur within one or more hypothetical states within the United States, and base your exam answer on the general state of the common law and typical statutory law in the United States, including all rules, procedures, and cases as presented in class, as well as, where appropriate, the theory and history discussed in class. For the sake of clarity, please note that if the name of a real state is used, your exam response should conform accordingly.
5. During the exam: You may not consult with anyone – necessary communications with the proctors being the exception. You may not view, attempt to view, or use information obtained from viewing student examinations or from viewing materials other than your own.
6. After the exam: You may discuss the exam with anyone, except that you may not discuss the exam, at all, with any enrolled member of the class who has not yet taken the exam.

Specific Notes and Instructions For PART ONE :

- a. This section of the examination is "closed book." You may not use any materials at all other than writing instruments and the materials provided as part of the examination. (Where the Dean of Students office has authorized additional materials, the direction of the Dean of Students office takes precedence over this rule.)
- b. Do not assume any additional facts not presented in the questions.
- c. Choose the most correct answer based on the materials assigned and presented in class. Each question has only one most correct answer. For example, where choices (a) through (d) are correct and choice (e) is "All of the above," the last choice (e) would be the most correct answer and the only answer that will be accepted. Where two or more choices are correct, the most correct answer is the answer that refers to each and every one of the correct choices.
- d. Subsequent to the exam's administration, in the sole discretion of the instructor, if error or irregularity is discovered, any affected question may be thrown out, or alternative answers may be given credit.
- e. All exam materials, including this booklet, any scratch paper you use, and your answer sheet, must be turned in at the conclusion of the period for taking this Part One.
- f. This Part One is worth approximately 1/6 of your exam grade.
